Introduction

The West Virginia Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (VOAD) is a humanitarian association of independent organizations that may be active in all phases of disaster. Its mission is to identify unmet needs and facilitate efficient, streamlined service delivery to those imperiled or impacted by disaster while eliminating duplication of effort through cooperation in the four phases of disaster: preparation, response, recovery and mitigation. We would like to thank our partner organizations for their continued support.

The Northern West Virginia Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Northern West Virginia Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Northern West Virginia Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information. Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Northern West Virginia Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Mountain State Centers for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties.
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Mountain State Centers for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties.
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Northern West Virginia Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Mountain State Centers for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties.
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Northern West Virginia Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Mountain State Centers for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices. Available in all 55 counties.
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctors visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get more information and current rate, contact the appropriate center.
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Appalachian Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices.
Available in all 55 counties.
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctor visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get most current rate, contact (304) 965-0376 or (800) 642-3003, or email acil_driver@yahoo.com
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

The Appalachian Center for Independent Living is an advocacy resource center for persons with disabilities and the communities in which they live in. Individuals with disabilities are not charged for services with the exception of those over the income level for the Community Living Services Program. Services include advocacy, independent living skills training, peer counselors, information and referral services, and transitioning services. Direct services include:

- Link-Up Program: matches people who need specific new or used equipment to meet their independence needs
- Community Living Services Program: provides distribution of funds for home modifications and adaptive equipment/devices.
Available in all 55 counties.
- Transportation Program: provides consumers with access to center activities and monitors public transportation systems. Transportation to doctor visits, dialysis, physical therapy/rehabilitation, non-emergency hospital visits, grocery shopping, to pay bills, and etc. are available on a fee basis. To get most current rate, contact (304) 965-0376 or (800) 642-3003, or email acil_driver@yahoo.com
- Support Groups: provide an opportunity for peer support through the exchange of ideas, experiences and information.

Housing education and consulting services are also provided to builders, realtors and landlords on housing needs and standards for people with disabilities. A list of accessible housing and available subsidies exists for consumers.

West Virginia Division of Homeland Security and Emergency Management \(WV DHSEM\)

How to Apply for FEMA Disaster Assistance:

You can apply for Disaster Assistance from FEMA once your county has been declared, and can do so in one of four ways:

- Call the helpline at 1-800-621-3362 or TTY 1-800-462-7585 to apply over the phone with a FEMA representative
- Go to www.disasterassistance.gov to apply online
- If a Disaster Recovery Center has been opened, FEMA representatives can help you apply in person
- If a FEMA representative comes to your door following the disaster declaration, you can apply with them. These FEMA representatives will have proper identification on them.

When you apply, you’ll need the following information:

- Social Security Number
- Insurance Information
- Damage Information
- Financial Information
- Contact Information
- Direct Deposit Information (optional)

Create a Communication Plan

1. Collect the phone numbers and email addresses of everyone in your household, keeping in mind members that may need alternative forms. Write down the numbers for emergency services, utilities, and other important services. Share the numbers with your family.
2. Try and designate a place inside of your home, in the neighborhood, outside of your neighborhood and outside of your town or city as a safe emergency meeting place for your household.
3. Identify an out of town or out of state contact that can act as a central point of communication in case local phone lines are busy.
4. Keep charged batteries, a car phone charger and solar charger available for back up power for your phone.

Create an Evacuation Plan

1. What is the best way to leave your home in case of an emergency? Try and find multiple routes.
2. Choose destinations that are in different directions from your home, such as friend's houses or hotels.
3. Be sure to think about your pets when you create a plan, as most public shelters will only accept service animals.
4. Always follow the instructions of local officials and remember your evacuation route may be on foot, depending on the type of disaster. Be flexible and ready to adapt to the situation as it happens.

Create a Shelter Plan

1. Sheltering is appropriate when conditions require you to seek protection in your home, workplace or other locations when disaster strikes. If you need to shelter outside of the hazard area, it could mean staying with friends or at a hotel. Make a plan for both situations.
2. Contact your local Office of Emergency Management for public shelter locations.
3. Each type of disaster may have a different location that allows you to remain safe.
4. The length of time you need to stay in a shelter location can vary depending on the situation, but it is important to stay in the shelter until local authorities say it is safe to leave. You should also take turns listening to radio broadcasts and maintain a 24 hour safety watch.
5. Be sure to manage your food and water supplies if you are required to shelter for an extended amount of time.

Build an Emergency Supply Kit

Store items in airtight plastic bags, and put all of your supplies in one or two duffel bags or plastic containers to make it easy to carry.

- At least one gallon of water per person per day for three days
- At least a three day supply of non-perishable food
- Battery powered or hand crank radio and a NOAA Weather Radio with tone alert
- Flashlight
- First Aid Kit
- Personal Hygiene Items (soap, soap box, toothpaste, toothbrush, comb, feminine supplies)
- Extra Batteries
- Matches in a waterproof container
- Whistle
- Dust Mask, Plastic Sheeting and Duct Tape
- Moist Towelettes, Garbage Bags and Plastic Ties
- Wrench or Pliers
- Manual Can Opener
- Local Maps
- Cell Phone with Chargers and a Backup Battery
- Medications/Medical Necessities
- Cash
- Important Family Documents-i.e. copies of insurance policies, identification, bank account records, birth certificates
- Complete change of clothing and shoes
- Blankets

If you have children or pets, make sure to put supplies in your kit to accommodate them. Useful items may include:

Children:

- Infant formula
- Bottles
- Prepackaged Baby Food
- Powdered Milk
- Juice Pouches
- Diapers
- Wipes
- Diaper Rash Cream

- Books, Games, Puzzles or other activities
- Crayons, Pens, Pencils, and/or Colored Pencils
- Comfort Items, such as a stuffed animal or blanket

Pets

- 3-7 Days of Pet Food
- Water
- Pet Feeding Dishes and Water Bowls
- Disposable Litter Trays
- Litter or Paper Toweling
- Liquid Dish Soap and Disinfectant
- Disposable Garbage Bags for Clean Up
- Extra Collar or Harness
- Extra Leash
- Copies of Medical Records
- Waterproof container with a two week supply of medicine
- Traveling bag, crate or sturdy carrier
- Blanket
- Recent Photos of your pet(s)
- Toys and Chew Toys
